Software Testing Internship

At Fundmore we are sure there is a better way for people to buy their dream home. We believe that the process of borrowing and lending money is quite outdated and is a source of frustration for all the parties involved. This is why we want to change it for good.

As a software tester, you'll be a key team member within the product team. You will work closely with other people to make sure the product keeps a high standard of quality. We are looking for someone that is passionate in understanding the business context and drive towards a great customer experience.

You will get the chance to learn and practice functional and exploratory testing following best practice testing principals applied on a state of the art, cloud SaaS platform.

For registration, please send us a 3 minute video describing:

- a personal achievement you are proud of
- what you are interested in learning from our internship program
- a few things about yourself

Technologies you will hear about working with us:
Nodejs, Playwright, PostgreSQL, Angular, HTML/ CSS/JS, Serverless, AWS

Registration Deadline : May 31st, 2024
