Technology Internship – Budapest

During this internship you will have the opportunity to improve your software development skills by joining a technology field that best suits your interest. You can take part in various activities such as the Mentorship Program, company introduction- and technology-focused professional trainings.

We offer:

- A supportive and vibrant multinational environment in an inspiring international team
- Continuous development opportunities and training tools
- An introduction to Morgan Stanley and how technology supports the investment banking business
- Opportunity to participate in the firm's networking events
- Full-time offer for the Technology Analyst Program upon graduation and successful completion of the internship

You will:

During the training program:

- Participate in practice-based courses, including lab projects and teamwork
- Work in one of the following key areas of your choice:
 - Development Track:
Learn a lot about application development and its various technologies like Java, C#, C++ etc.
 - Infrastructure Track:
Learn something new every day about networking, operating systems, databases etc.

After the training program:

- Have the chance to receive a full-time offer for an exciting job (upon your preference)
- Continue to participate in technical and soft skill trainings and use various technologies
- Get an opportunity for a long-term career, supported by a great mobility program

You have:

- Ongoing BSc (or above) studies in Computer Science, Engineering, Mathematics, Physics, or similar fields
- Solid level of English (both written and spoken)
- Good problem-solving and communication skills with teamwork attitude
- Knowledge on at least one of these object-oriented languages: Java, C++ C# or .NET

Application process:
